COOLIDGE FAVORS U. S. AID FOR AMUNDSEN

FORMER AIDE WOULD GO TO RESCUE AGAIN

Man Who Saved Explorer in 1923 Sure Planes Strand-

WEATHER PERILS FLIGHT

If Expedition Landed in Alaska, It May Take Two Weeks to Get Word

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Governmental relief for the Amundsen expedition to the north pole is favored by President Coolidge, but he is not certain that the situation has reached the point where such aid would be justified.

Los Angeles—Haakon H. Hammer, who led an expedition to the relief of Roald Amundsen in 1923, Tuesday awaited word from San Diego that would start him on another Arctic dash in aid of the Norwegian explorer.

In Hammer's opinion the passage of the fifth day without word from Amundsen is almost certain proof that the explorer's aeroplanes are stranded somewhere north of Spitzbergen and that an outside relief is necessary. He has laid tentative plans for an accused dash from Spitzbergen in search of the missing party and awaits only notification from Hans Nansen of San Diego that the necessary funds have been raised.

ANXIETY GROWS
London—Increasing anxiety was felt here Tuesday regarding the fate of the Amundsen-Ellsworth flying expedition to the north pole.

Optimism continued to prevail in many quarters and some felt that the lack of news from him merely indicated that he is waiting favorable weather conditions for his return to Spitzbergen.

Nevertheless the general feeling was less confident and more fears were felt that some mishap had left Amundsen and his companions without the use of their flying boats. The anxiety was increased by reports from Spitzbergen Tuesday morning that the weather in the north has changed for the worse.

NEWS UNCERTAIN
Nome, Alaska—Amundsen's penchant for starting the world makes it difficult to tell when news will be received from the explorer. Geo. S.
Maynard, mayor of Nome, and a personal friend of Amundsen's, declared Tuesday.

"In case a landing is made at Point Barrow, it would probably take at least two weeks to get word to Kotzebue or Nome," Mr. Maynard said.
"From Walnright, which was Amundsen's former starting place, it might be possible to hear in about 10 days, unless he chooses to wait along the Alaskan north coast until some vessel with a wireless apparatus should make its way north through ice floes or a trading ship."

"This is possible but would not be accomplished much before a week or two."

MAYBE HIT ALASKA

Seattle—Capt. Roald Amundsen may already have landed on the northern coast of Alaska but it may be weeks before the world will know, persons familiar with the climate and terrain of the region, pointed out here Tuesday.

The ice in the Arctic ocean is just breaking up, no vessels having wireless communication are known to be north of Nome. The farthest north radio station is at Kotzebue, about 200 miles north of Nome and about 1,200 miles from the north pole.

Oslo, Norway—A telegram received here Tuesday by the Shipping Gazette from Spitzbergen said the explorer Amundsen had not returned from his north pole flight Tuesday morning.
Weather conditions were less favorable, it was reported.

Airplanes Only Means Of Locating Polar Aviators

Washington, D. C.—If Captain Amundsen is lost, he will be found, not by boat or sledge, but by airplanes.

This is the conclusion of army and navy men here who have been studying the meager reports from the Arctic region and who point out that it is one thing to rescue an explorer under the conditions that prevailed under Peary's day, and it is quite another to scout by airplane in a zone of the world where landing surfaces are so uncertain.

"When an Arctic explorer was lost in the old days the rescuing party knew exactly the route that had been taken and could by a series of marches over the ice from a ship's base reach destination. The flight of Amundsen by plane to the unknown areas of the Northern world makes it impossible to send sleds or boats for the very good reason that a rescuing party cannot know where to begin the search."

Thus an airplane capable of withstanding Arctic temperatures and with a pilot skilled in navigation, according to the experts here, first must locate the missing men and

ITALIANS SHOOT AT BROTHER OF THEIR LEADER

Chicago Foreigner Drives to North Side and Is Riddled With Bullets

Chicago—Angelo Genna, a brother of Michael Genna, who is reported to have fallen heir to much of the influence once held by the late Michael Merlo among Italian-Americans here, was riddled with bullets from sawed off shotguns and probably fatally wounded Tuesday as he drove his automobile on the north side.

Genna was shot at least three times, his hands dropped from the steering wheel of his car and the automobile crashed into a post.

The would-be assassins, at least three in number, armed with shotguns and revolvers escaped in another automobile.

When police attempted to question Genna in the hospital, and asked who had shot him he only smiled and shook his head.

Merlo, who died last December, was a nationally known figure among Sicilians of America and was one of the most influential among Chicago Italians.

It was while arranging to send flowers to the Merlo funeral, that Dion O'Banion, florist-gunner and underworld lieutenant was assassinated in his florist shop. O'Banion's murderers never were apprehended.

Genna, when shot down, had $11,- 000 in his clothing. The police were interested in the pocketbook in his possession which bore a number of names.

ERUPTION OF JAPANESE VOLCANO DOES DAMAGE

Toko—Dispatches from the Nichi report the explosions of Mount Su-

huge rocks tumbling down the mountain, crushing a number of dwellings at the base. The inhabitants fled to Nakashima island.

the shops have a wonderful psychological influence on the women, Walter D. Wagner, director of the state department of institutions disclosed Tuesday.

"It makes for contentment," Wagner said, "to allow women every-back word to civilization of the most exact bearings of the party. Some planes equipped with radio can send a relatively short distance so that if Amundsen is on the ice somewhere near Spitzbergen a plane might locate him and after sending back word by radio or bringing it back, the attempt to rescue could be undertaken.

The plane which sets out to rescue might find it equally hard to rise after once landing so it is thought here the rescue plane would first wish to notify the world of the exact location of the missing party.

There are so few planes equipped to land in the Arctic that it is considered doubtful whether two could be mustered for the work. The American navy has three planes capable of landing on ice or water. These are being prepared for the expedition to the Arctic this summer and will be commanded by Commander Byrd. The navy department may change all its plans to rescue work if the Norwegian government requests it, though it is possible the aviation bureaux of Great Britain or some other European country being nearer to the scene might feel inclined to make the search. If the explorers were not injured in any forced landing, they have food enough to last them until a rescue expedition can get underway even though it may take five or six weeks for the rescuers to locate the missing men.

Opinion here is divided as to the fate of Amundsen. Some of the navy experts think Amundsen did not have the safest kind of equipment and that while he may know a great deal about Arctic exploration "on foot" or by sledge, he doesn't know aviation. The Norwegian aviators are capable but it is questioned here whether they were not overconfident about the character of their equipment or their steering information and meteorological data.

New Conservation Bill Allows Commission to Take
Its Own Earnings

By Associated Press
Madison—Investigation of all state departments, commissions, boards and bureaus to determine if any graft or official misconduct exists in state government is asked in a resolution scheduled for introduction in the state legislature Wednesday by Senator H.
J. Sevelson, Jola.

The proposed investigation would become a part of the duties of the special senatorial investigating committee inquiring into the merits of the Smith-Eiken controversy, the resolution reads.

In addition to inquiring into possible official misconduct there would be imposed on the committee the duty of inquiring if any employees of state government have been indicted by grand juries in other states;
whether extradition of any state employee has been refused; whether any person is employed by the state in violation of the civil service laws; whether any official or employee has received corruptly any money or property in this state for which he has received no value, and whether illegitimate children have been born to women confined in state institutions.

ALLIANCE EARNINGS
The greater part of all money earned by the state conservation commission is appropriated back to the commission for conservation purposes by the provision of the legislative joint finance committee bill introduced in the state senate Monday night. But the conservation commission must pay back to the state general fund over an 11-year period beginning July 1, 1925, the sum of $25,- 000 principal and interest on land investment.

Of this refund, the sum of $75,000 annually is to be paid. The net appropriation is $245,675 for each year of the biennium. Other sums appropriated are $32,300 in 1925 and $21,550 in 1926 for properly repairs and maintenance; $39,250 in 1925 and $34,550 in 1926 for permanent property and improvement; $12,000 annually derived under the Weeks federal law for forest fire prevention; all of the revenue from the sale of rough fish, split one half to the work of fish rescue and one half to the operation fund; all sums derived from the sale of rock and other material from state park areas; $10,000 annually for prevention of stream pollution; $12,000 additional in 1925 for fish rescue; $50,000 on Oct. 1, 1925 for construction and maintenance of roads to state park areas.

Introduction of the bill was to supplant a measure vetoed by the governor. It is understood that this bill has the approval of the governor.

The senate passed a deficiency appropriation for $5,000 for Stout institute and the appropriation bills for departments of the attorney general and secretary of state.

coincident with reports from New ships had left the blockaded area of the eastern coast, Lincoln C. Andrews, chief of federal prohibition enforcement, announced at El Paso that plans had been laid to expand the enforcement fleet on the Atlantic to 100 or more craft.

Mr. Andrews also said that the sea prohibition forces on the Pacific coast would be enlarged to make available to the coast guard at least one boat for every liquor smuggling ship off shore.

It likewise became known that increased activity against rum runners on the Great Lakes, and particularly along the Detroit river was in prospect with the arrival at Detroit of J. T. Brereton of Chicago, veteran prohibition agent, who was expected to take charge of the government dry war on inland waters.

Arrival of Mr. Brereton at Detroit, coincided with a conference there which included Roy A. Haynes, federal prohibition commissioner and other enforcement officials, and it was reported that a fast fleet of armed boats for chasing rum runners would arrive early next month.

The mouth of the Clinton river north of Detroit, declared to be the headquarters of 14 of Michigan's "major bootleggers," already has been blockaded by the state department of public safety. The state patrol boat Aladdin weighed anchor off the mouth of the river Monday and two smaller boats have been assigned to assist in maintaining the blockade.

Washington, D. C.—Extension of the operation of the dry fleet to the west coast on the northern lake frontier and then a converging movement upon liquor law violators up hibition officials.

Commissioner Haynes asserted Tuesday that "many problems were being worked out" which he declined to discuss on the ground that "a little premature publicity might destroy months of planning and hard work."

E. C. Yellowley chief of general prohibition agents, announced that a fleet of 12 fast chasers would be ready within 30 days to reinforce the Detroit river forces operating between Lakes Erie and Huron. The situation there was described by enforcement headquarters as serious, with from 30 to 40 boats, needed to furnish an adequate patrol. Mr. Yellowley said that four 35-knot chasers were under construction and "there were being required to build up a third

INQUIRY WILL BE MADE INTO FORMER CASES

Last Six Months

FIRST PANEL IS BROKEN

Juror Is Discharged After Admitting Opinion in Merits of Case

By Associated Press
Chicago—The discharge of a juror breaking the first panel, obtained in the trial of William D. Shepherd, charged with the murder of William McClintock, and jury tampering charges brought a double sensation in Judge Thomas J. Lynch's court
Tuesday.

"We have information that James has been investigated, and should be investigated before a jury is sworn in in this case," former Judge Robert E. Crowe, states attorney, declared, in answering William Scott Stewart, chief defense counsel, who demanded that Crowe be stopped from further inquiry as to possible jury tampering.

Harold Pillar, 22, the youngest man on the jury, a member of the first panel, of four, the only jurors thus far sworn in broke the panel, Tuesday, when he confided to the court, in the presence of the defendant, Shepherd and the attorneys in case,
that he had an opinion in the case and was opposed to capital punishment. He was discharged for jury service. Pillar had not said he would submit to a capital punishment. He was discharged, leaving only three jurors in the box.

DEMANDS HALT

The second high point of the morning session, was recorded when Attorney Stewart, appealed to Judge Lynch to call a halt on state's Attorney Crowe's jury tampering inquiry.
Stewart asserted that every day the newspapers were coming out in bold headlines referring to the tampering charges and that if this continued it would be virtually impossible to obtain a jury. He asserted that Judge Crowe was conducting a newspaper campaign as an aid to his political ambitions.

Judge Lynch, however, agreed with States Attorney Crowe that the court was not being interfered with by the action of the states attorney's amendment questioning veniremen who had excused from jury service in an attempt to learn whether anyone had sought to influence them while they were under summons of the court.
After a venireman was excused from service he was no longer under the jurisdiction of the court Judge Lynch held.

BUY 250 CALVES TO BE SHIPPED TO NEBRASKA FARMS

Western Dairy Developers
Buy Cattle Here for Nebraska Calf Clubs

O. H. Liebers, manager of the Nebraska Dairy Development society, and M. N. Lawton, his assistant, are making Appleton their headquarters during their tour of Wisconsin and neighboring counties where they are buying 250 Wisconsin grade and one-hundred calves for shipment to Nebraska. They planned to ship a carload of calves Tuesday afternoon from the Chicago and Northwestern station, and then to continue their tour until they have completed their purchase of the required number. There were more than 50 calves in shipment Tuesday. The two buyers intended to buy approximately 20 more here and the rest in other parts of the state.

About 90 per cent of the calves purchased in Wisconsin will be grades, according to Mr. Liebers, but every one of them must come from stock producing at least 500 pounds of butterfat in a year, and must be perfect in their class. Most of the cattle purchased will be Holsteins, Guernseys and Jerseys.

CALF CLUB SPECIAL
The stock purchased here will be assembled at Fremont, Neb., and from that point distributed to 21 perpetual calf clubs throughout the state. Each of these clubs will be given ten calves and a high grade bull. The stock will be distributed this fall, by means of a calf club special train which will be run through the state for that purpose. The special will stop one day in each one of the cities where calf clubs are located, and in each of these localities a demonstration will be given.

Communities where calves will be unloaded will be asked to make the day a big dairy day. Other attractions will be offered in addition, and it is expected that large crowds will assemble to see the Wisconsin stock. The bulls given to the various clubs will be rotated every year for the next six or eight years, according to Mr. Liebers, who declared himself highly pleased with the reception accorded him here and with the quality of the stock he was able to purchase. He stated that Nebraska dairy interests were very favorably impressed with Badger cattle.

FORM CALF CLUBS
In line with the endeavor to give dairymen an added impetus in Nebraska, the development society plans to get 250 boys interested in the calf clubs. These boys will be the future breeders of the state, and thus the industry will be established on a firm foundation. The trips across the state with the calf clubs, the best method of acquiring Wisconsin stock is to purchase direct from the breeders. In addition to the Nebraska Dairy Development society, Mr. Liebers and Mr. Lawton also represent the Union Pacific Railway Co. and the agricultural college of the University of Nebraska, both of which are taking an active part in the propagation of good stock in the state.

PROMINENT BANKERS SPEAK AT GREEN BAY

Shall Wisconsin banks adopt the "service charge"? This is one of the many topics of interest which will be discussed at the annual one-day convention of Group Three Wisconsin Bankers' association which will be held Thursday, May 28, at the Hotel Northland in Green Bay. At least five hundred are expected to attend, and every officer, director and employee of the 20 member banks in the group is invited.

The service charge is a fee collected by banks on accounts where the average balance is too small to yield income sufficient to pay the cost of carrying it. Proponents of the plan claim this eliminates what otherwise would be an unjust burden on the depositor with a large balance. It will be discussed here by Paul H. Schroeder, assistant cashier of the Commercial National Bank of Madison.

Other subjects include a discussion of the county clearing house, by J. W. Meyers, of the Illinois Bankers' association; and a talk on the value of standardization by Harry D. Baker, president of the Fox County Bank of Balsam Lake.

K. F. Karel, assistant national bank examiner, will present his side of bank examination to the meeting in an address, "Let's Swap Places."

The guest of honor will be Dwight T. Parker, commissioner of banking, and W. H. Doyle, president of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, who will talk on "Co-operation."

SCHOOL PARTY MARRED BY IMBIBING STUDENTS

New London's all school party in the armory of that city Friday night was marred by a group of young men who brought liquor into the hall, according to reports which were current after the dance was over.

A number of the students are said to have brought flasks of liquor with them and imbibed so freely that they became intoxicated and disorderly. They left the hall and caroused about the city and had to be quelled.

School officials, it is said, have been conducting an investigation to find out where the liquor was obtained and to place the responsibility. It is reported also that other pupils of the school will assist in preventing any such conduct in the future.

His total bill with costs was $13.20. Cletus Vanderheiden, arrested May 15 by Patrolman Joseph Bayer for driving an automobile without a license, paid fine and costs of $13.20.

LIONS RIDE IN STATE TO FONDY FOR CONVENTION

Motorcade of Lions Forms
Here for Journey to Conference City

Hundreds of Lions passed through the streets of Appleton Tuesday, but they were not the ferocious kind. Appleton Lions club members gathered early Tuesday morning to welcome delegations from Green Bay, New London, Clintonville and Waupaca, on their way to Fond du Lac for the state convention there. After the transients had been greeted here, the local clubmen and their wives joined in the motorcade with more than 25 automobiles and proceeded on their way to the convention.

More than 750 Lions were expected to attend the convention. The convention was set for Tuesday and Wednesday, and Fond du Lac left no stone unturned to make the affair a brilliant success. Signs were placed on all streets leading into the city in preparation for the arrival of the visiting members, stickers welcoming the visitors were placed in the windows of business houses, and every effort was made to make them feel at home.

ENTERTAIN LADIES
An elaborate program has been arranged for the convention, including the ladies as well as the men. Amusements will be headquarter for the ladies in the Calumet hotel between 1:30 and 3:30 o'clock, after which the ladies were to go to the armory to join the men in forming for the parade.

The parade was to start at 4 o'clock. After passing through the main streets of the city, prizes were to be awarded the funniest delegation, the largest delegation and the best looking delegation. A banquet was scheduled for 6:30 Tuesday evening, at which J. A. Sandee, president of the Fond du Lac club will preside. A stunt program will follow the banquet at 8:30 o'clock. All visiting delegations will be awarded prizes and will be awarded for the first day.

Wednesday will be occupied with business sessions at which officers will be elected and the next convention city chosen. A stag luncheon will be held at noon and also a luncheon for ladies followed by a bridge party. The convention will be concluded by a banquet and dance Wednesday evening.

1,200 CHICKS ARRIVE HERE BY PARCEL POST

Fourteen crates of day-old chicks were received at the post office Tuesday morning for delivery to chicken fanciers of Appleton and the vicinity. Each of the crates contained 100 chicks each while the remaining four held fifty apiece, making a total of 1,200 chicks. This is the largest shipment received here for several months, and all of the chicks appeared to be alive and vigorous.

The Weather

WEATHER FOR WISCONSIN
Fair in east; probably increasing cloudiness in west portion tonight and Wednesday. Not so cool in south portion. Frost tonight in extreme east portion.

GENERAL WEATHER
High pressure and fair weather are reported from almost every part of the country from the Missouri and Arkansas valleys eastward. Temperatures are low throughout the territories influenced by this high pressure and frosts were reported from northern and eastern Wisconsin and from Michigan. Lower pressure and temperatures near the normal are reported from the intermountain region, with some cloudiness over the western plains. This lower pressure is expected to spread slowly eastward toward this section as the high pressure area moves eastward. This would cause slowly rising temperature and some increasing cloudiness.

CLUB SEEKING SUMMER CAMP FOR MEMBERS

An effort is being made by members of Appleton Women's club to provide a temporary camp for the girls to be used this summer in place of Happy Hut cottage, which the board of directors and Sports Council voted to offer for sale at a meeting on Saturday. Campers for the summer will be accommodated as well as they have been taken care of heretofore, although definite arrangements have not yet been made.

Groups wishing to camp may make their registrations at the clubhouse just as they have always done. Several weeks in August have not yet been spoken for, although the rest of the summer months are promised to various groups of girls.

The directors and Sports Council want to be able to provide a permanent camp for the clubhouse girls. Time will, of course, be required to select the locality for the camp, and the method of supervision. In the meantime, the camp which is offered will be made as comfortable and pleasant as possible.

APPLETON IS BEHIND VALLEY IN BUILDING

Appleton has less building activity than almost any city in the Fox River valley, according to a survey of conditions made by the district council of carpenters of the valley at a meeting Saturday evening in Trades and Labor hall, Oshkosh. Fond du Lac, Neenah and other cities have a number of large buildings under construction but Appleton appears to be caught up for the time being. A number of homes are being built here but that is about all the work provided for carpenters.

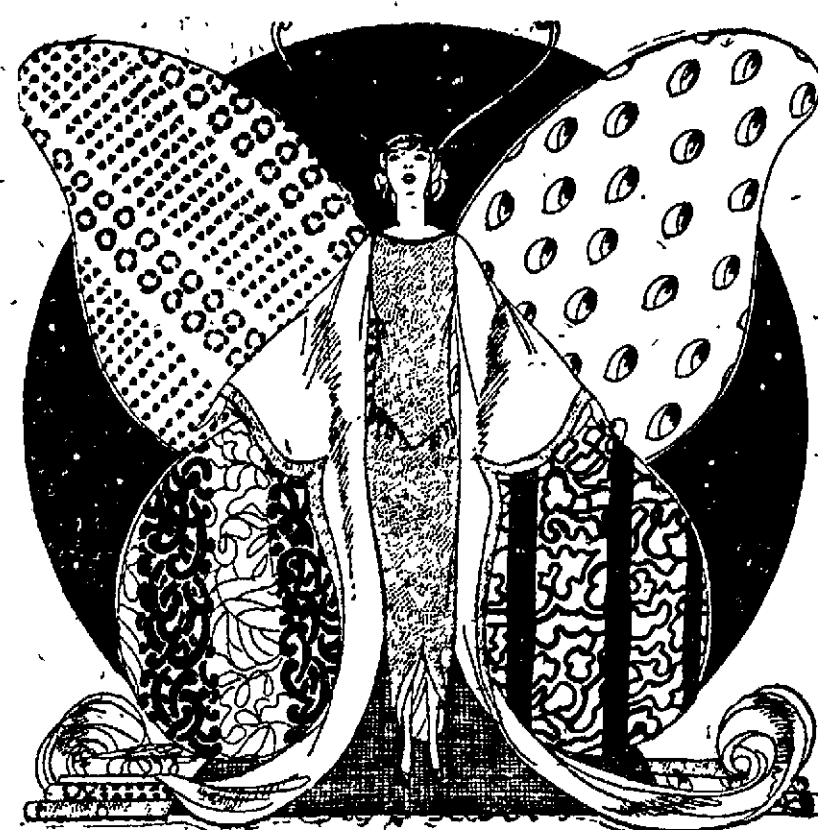

The valley voted to raise its initiation fee in the near future. Carpenters who are not now members will be urged to join before the increase takes place.

WHOLE STATE IS WARNED TO LOOK FOR POX SPREAD

Mayor Goodland Asked to Warn People to Guard Against Epidemic

Wisconsin State Board of Health has issued a general warning to the state regarding the prevalence of smallpox in Milwaukee and the danger of its becoming epidemic throughout Wisconsin. Mayor John Goodland Jr., received such a warning in which it is stated that there have been about 50 deaths from malignant smallpox in Milwaukee. The letter says that 25 per cent of the cases are fatal, and that every city in the state should be concerned with the seriousness of the situation.

"Vaccinations done 10, 20, 30, 40 or 50 years ago do not make the individuals proof against this malignant type of smallpox," the warning continues. "Individuals who have been vaccinated within the last five to seven years ago are rarely attacked by this disease, and we believe no deaths have occurred from malignant smallpox in such individuals."

The board of health urges that the mayor bring the situation before the people and if possible make arrangements for general vaccination. There are three or four cases of smallpox in this city at present, but the recent vaccination of school children probably will prevent the rapid spread of the disease here, according to Mayor Goodland.

HONOR MEMORY OF SEA HEROES

Impressive Memorial Service to Be Held at Riverbank Next Saturday

One of the most impressive ceremonies of the Memorial day program on May 30 will be in connection with the casting of a wreath on the Fox river in memory of the sailors and marines who fell in fighting for their country. Instead of disbanding after the ceremonies at Riverside cemetery as in previous years, the organizations taking part in the ceremony will march from the cemetery after unrolling the G. A. R. monument, to the riverbank.

The program on the riverbank will be opened with a song by a women's chorus. George Dame then will cast a huge wreath from the shore into the water. This will be followed by an address by C. W. Cross, who will act as one of the chaplains of the day.

Mrs. W. H. Dean and a chorus of ladies will ride in a boat down the river, past the assembled organizations, singing "Scatter the Flowers." This part of the ceremony is one of the most touching and beautiful features. It will be followed with a prayer by the chaplain. The firing of a salute and the blowing of taps will conclude the celebration.

EXPLORERS SEEKING NEW PLANTS IN CHINA

Washington. — The United States has been enriched by the acquisition of new plants from China after a three-year exploration trip undertaken for the government by P. H. Dorsett, for 25 years with the office of foreign seed and plant introduction of the department of agriculture, and his son, J. H. Dorsett.

The Dorsetts sailed recently for China, where they will search particularly for hardy plants for cultivation in our northern great plains region. Many interesting strains of wheat, barley and other cereals, known to exist in Manchuria and northern China, may prove of great value in this country.

Besides these plants, the Dorsetts will send back for propagation in the department gardens here roots, cuttings and seeds of such plants as the hardy Chinese bush cherries which preliminary investigations have shown to be adapted as far north as Mandan, North Dakota, and whose fruit is much like the domestic sour cherry.

St. Olaf Choir Sets New Standards For Colleges

New standards have been established in collegiate vocal music by the unprecedented accomplishment of Dr. F. Mellus Christiansen with the St. Olaf Lutheran choir, which appears here in Lawrence Memorial chapel on June 10. The days of the college glee club are numbered, according to musical experts throughout the country, for already Yale, Brown, Dartmouth, Princeton, Amherst, Williams and in fact every eastern and many western and southern colleges have followed the example of the little Northfield institution and turned to the majestic works of men like Palestrina and Bach.

Instead of the foolish ditties that gave a false interpretation of the life of the American college student, Dr. Christiansen introduced on the concert platform masterpieces that have existed for hundreds of years through their innate qualities of greatness. Soon we will hear no more the pitiful story of "The Bullfrog on the Bank," "The Little Red Drum" and their numerous relatives, for the public has learned to appreciate the classics made popular by the St. Olaf choir.

But not only in educational matters has the choir of the Northfield school become a leader. Church choirs all over the nation are following Dr. Christiansen's example and the result has been such splendid choirs as that of the Dayton, O. Westminster church. It can be done with only average material, and with trained singers it can be done wonderfully well.

Dr. Christiansen is a musical missionary. The influence of his work cannot be overestimated and it is spreading constantly in all directions.

HALL ONLY DELEGATE AT CITY LEAGUE MEET

Arthur J. Hall, bacteriologist at the water pumping station here, probably will be the only Appleton representative at the annual meeting of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities at Madison Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Other city officials also were invited, but as the common council meets to act on paving bids on Thursday following the dedication of Cherry-st bridge on Tuesday, neither the mayor nor any of the aldermen will attend.

According to Ford H. MacGregor, secretary of the league, operation and effects of the home rule amendment

GERTRUDE OVERBY, SOLOIST OF THE ST. OLAF LUTHERAN CHOIR WHICH APPEARS HERE FOR THE SECOND TIME ON WEDNESDAY, JUNE 10, WILL BE REMEMBERED BY THOSE WHO HEARD HER IN LAWRENCE MEMORIAL CHAPEL LAST YEAR AS THE POSSESSOR OF A WONDERFUL SOPRANO VOICE. MISS OVERBY WILL SING SEVERAL SOLOS.

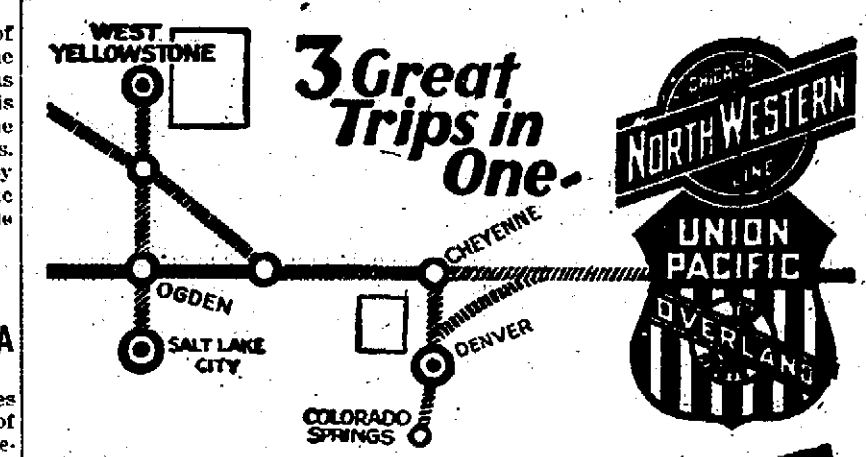

AGAIN SEEK RECRUITS FOR U. S. MARINE CORPS

Recruiting for the United States Marine corps has been resumed here after a lapse of nearly a year, and William H. Zuehlke, postmaster, has been authorized to have applicants examined here. Those who are found eligible will be sent to the Milwaukee station of the corps. Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 34 years. They must be citizens of the United States and single. Those who are under 21 years of age must have the permission of their parents in order to enlist.

The Marine corps offers unusual facilities for acquiring an education in almost any trade or profession. During the course of his enlistment each man has at his disposal the most notable correspondence courses in the country, and also personal instruction, by able teachers.

recently passed by the legislature probably will be the most important subject of discussion at the meeting.

ONTARIO'S BEER LAW

Ontario's experiment with 4.4 beer is the cynosure of American eyes for the present. Wets and dries alike are deeply interested in the change which has taken place in that province, heretofore dry for a long period. Our dries look at it with apprehension or disgust, and our wets with hope and felicitation. They are making conflicting claims after the first few days' trial of 4.4. Newspapers from some of the larger cities sent staff men to view the exhibition on the opening day, which in some of the border cities was made a holiday. Thousands of Americans flocked across the border to imbibe the amber fluid and test its qualities. We have a wide variety of reports concerning what took place, the dries contending it was a day of debauchery and the wets that it was a harmless day of entertainment and rejoicing. Already conclusions are being formed as to the results. Some say it will solve the problem of hard liquor in Ontario and others say it will not. Some say it will satisfy those who favored temperance, and others ridicule the idea. Some argue that Ontario will be abundantly pleased with the new policy and that it is going to settle the liquor question in that part of Canada for a long time to come. The militant dries take the opposite view.

No one can, of course, say at this time what the results will be. It will take a considerable period, perhaps a year or two, to tell. After the novelty has worn off comes the question of every day application, the effects upon law enforcement and upon hard liquor distribution and drinking. There has been a vast amount of discussion in this country as to whether modification of the Volstead act to permit the manufacture and sale of beer would reduce the consumption of hard liquor and improve conditions. Many theories are entertained on the subject and there is wide difference of opinion. The experiences of Ontario with the 4.4 will be of value in determining the question on this side of the border. We do not think it will be conclusive because there are some things inherent in the Canadian temperament and in the Canadian state, where law on the whole is more respected and better obeyed, that distinguishes the problem there from ours. Still, there will be much in the trial of 4.4 that will shed light on what might be expected in this country from a modification of prohibition along similar lines.

COOLIDGE KNOWS HUMAN NATURE

What is "we" compared to "me"? It is illustrated in the tactfulness of President Coolidge in declining the suggestion of his secretaries that he conserve energy by omitting the daily handshaking reception to all comers and gathering the visitors, instead, in a group where he could address them a daily brief speech.

From every standpoint of reason and efficiency, the secretaries were of course right. It would be easier for the president and much more useful to the visitors. Instead of a meaningless second apiece of handshake, they would have perhaps 20 minutes of rather intimate personal impression of the president in action, at his best, with such personal or national message as the day might bring forth.

It would be tremendously valuable. But it would be "we," not "I." Rather one second in which "I" shook hands, myself, personally, just "I," with the president, than half an hour in which "we" participated in an interesting and inspiring experience. The president knows human nature.

LITERATURE AND TRASH

Scattered experiments recently in excluding crime news from newspapers have crystallized the opinion previously held by the public that accurate reporting of crime and punishment under proper editorial supervision can do little harm and often does much good. There is a far greater cause for alarm, one that has in fact been worrying parents, ministers and educators for some time, in numerous newsstand periodicals designed, from front page illustrations to back cover, to appeal solely to the most primitive feelings. These periodicals have a temporary interest for perverted tastes and are never found in good libraries.

Among some producers of drama and motion pictures and fiction there has been an erroneous belief that the greatest financial rewards await those who can get away with the cheapest stuff. From the viewpoint of these manufacturers there may be some truth in the idea, because many of them would be incapable of producing anything good with any market value at all. The fact remains, however, that the notable successes in the production of plays and the publication of literature have been the really great works of art. An example is the noteworthy success of The Golden Book, a new kind of magazine devoted entirely to the short stories, essays, poems and sayings of the greatest writers of all countries. In a few short months this publication has attained a tremendous circulation, proving that there is a public demand in America for the best in literature.

The original Golden Book (Libro D'Oro) of Venice was the official list of the nobles, who alone could vote or hold office or count socially in that republic of aristocrats. The names signed to the stories in this Golden Book are a roster of the nobility of literature. These are the master story tellers of all times and all lands. They are the few who write for the many, of their own day and those that come after.

Periodicals of this kind, bringing the best literature within easy reach in attractive form, so that it can be read in odd hours to and from work, of an evening at home and even during vacation time, when only the gems of literature can be fitting companions to bright joyful days, will doubtless have an interesting effect upon the more universal enjoyment of what is good literature. The laws of economics will take care of the worst.

USING OUR FREE TIME

Learning to play is the chief problem of the Age of Machinery. Work was once thought the all-sufficient remedy for the mischief which Satan proverbially finds for idle hands to do. But no more! Work no longer occupies all the time of even the busiest hands.

We have abolished child labor, and abbreviated adult labor, until some degree of leisure is the common lot of all of us. The "idle hands" consist of everybody's hands, for an important part of every day. And Satan, notoriously, is finding plenty of mischief for them to do.

The only remedy is for us to get even busier than Satan, finding good things to do with leisure, in place of his mischiefs. The same machinery which provided the leisure can also provide the things—libraries, parks, social centers, athletic fields and dancing halls, radio, movie and theatrical programs—but the tastes, knowledge and disposition to use these things can not be made by machinery nor bought for money.

These must begin with the schools, and continue through every organ of adult education and leadership. The schools would be omitting half their task if they prepared pupils only for the working part of life. One of their most useful functions is to teach the "useless."

And, with everything inviting, from brothels to churches, from booze to Beethoven, people must learn to prefer wholesome pleasures, or it will make little difference how efficiently our machines do our work.

12-As are funny little things. They won't work unless you do.

It is discouraging to realize some day you may have all the little worries your boss has now.

Does higher education pay? Today we say "Yes." Motorcycles have been barred from Yale campus.

Mexico has her grasshopper plague and we have our crossword puzzles.

We would be afraid to shake hands as much as Coolidge. Half the folks we meet sell us something.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

EVERYBODY LIKES MYSTERY

Give a doctor a ripping mystery story, such as Philipott's "The Grey Room," Melcher's "The Borough Treasurer," Carolyn Wells' "The Secluded Room," Rees' "The Striking Pl" or any of a dozen others which belong on the top shelf alongside "The Hound of the Baskervilles," and for an evening or two he can forget delinquents, hypochondriacs and chiropractors. Nearly everybody likes mystery. I like it with my pipe. A doctor may indulge in both of 'em at the right time and in the right dose without offending any one else or injuring himself. The trouble is, so many doctors mix both tobacco and mystery with their prescriptions.

Mystery and secrecy are two legs of the tripod on which the success of the nostrum and quackery business depends. The third leg I'll tell you about if we ever meet. You see, health is the first consideration with me, and I must try to take good care of my own health. Indeed my own health is the very first consideration with me, and after that comes your health. I would even neglect your health a little, that is withhold from you information or instruction or use to you in keeping well if the giving of the information or instruction tends to injure my own health. For unless I keep perfectly well, the information or instruction I give you is likely to be of an inferior if not an abnormal character, and that would be pretty bad for your health wouldn't it? I'll say it would, for fear you may not immediately see the point. There is a very old saying, "Physician, heal thyself." It never impressed me as a very wise remark, for many a physician stricken and really dying of disease has nevertheless healed plenty of patients. If you change it to "Health, show us!" It seems more reasonable, now doesn't it?

One of the important medical discoveries of this generation is the discovery that goiter is due to the lack of iodine and that the trouble is absolutely preventable by supplying a minute quantity of iodine in one form or another, in medicine, in water or in food. Where approximately half of the school children show some sign of goiter it has been found that the administration of a minute dose of iodine in some form will not only cure the goiter but will prevent its return. It is a great surprise, therefore, to find the New York state health department, always so solicitous and backward in action, suddenly printing in the newspapers of the state a warning that the general use of iodized salt instead of ordinary salt (one of the best methods of insuring the necessary iodine for everybody) "may do serious harm when used by persons having goiter already developed."

The joker in the press notice issued by the New York politicians comes in the last line: "Dr. Kimball advised that the administration of minute quantities of iodine in tablet form to children needing it be continued in the Syracuse schools."

That tablet form refers to proprietary nostrum which costs about a thousand times more than iodized salt or sodium iodide or ordinary tincture of iodine. That's the mystery, you see.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

And He Was Wonderful Wise.
Kindly advise me whether or not the eye can be taken from the socket and immediately replaced without injury to the sight. If so, give me the name of a specialist you would recommend. (L. A.)
Answer.—The eyeball may be temporarily detached forward for surgical purposes without injury. Any oculist is competent to do that. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope for reply by mail, and ask for the name of the oculist in the city you would visit.

COTTAGE PLAN

TAKES PLACE OF BIG ORPHANAGE

Homelike Atmosphere Is Aim in Establishment of Homes for Children

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—Students of the dependent children problem are more and more leaning toward the cottage institution in preference to the congregate institution. While the United States children's bureau, which has been making a study of this question in connection with a handbook now being prepared, endorses the cottage institution idea, it wishes to emphasize the fact that it believes that children should only be placed in institutions of any kind as a last resort.

The bureau desires further to emphasize its position that when it is at all possible a child should be kept with his mother. In order that this may be done the bureau advocates pensions for those mothers whose financial condition might force them to break up their homes.

HOME OF HOME
It believes the next best solution of the dependent child is the foster home which has been selected with care as a suitable environment for the particular child in question. If, however, it is impossible for the child to have either the care of his mother, or be placed in a fitting foster home, and he must be put in an institution, it is now aimed to make those as near a real home as is possible. For this reason the cottage institution idea is being studied.

But changes have come in these institutions as in most things, and now more and more effort is being made in the majority of these to give them as much of a home atmosphere as possible. The children's bureau last October exhibited at the fourth Pan-American child congress, at Santiago, Chile, a model of a cottage institution designed to accommodate about 100 children. A Chilean woman, now residing in the United States, was so impressed with this that she purchased it, together with a model of a playground and one of a maternity nursing center, and it has now become part of a permanent exhibit in Chile.

This model was constructed after a study had been made of various cottage institutions in operation and comprises what the bureau considers the best features of them all. The institution is shown as being located on the outskirts of a city or town and connected thereto by a trolley line. There is an administration building, a gymnasium and auditorium, a farm with farmer's cottage, eight cottages for the children and a recreation building. Each of the cottages is designed and is supervised by a cottage mother and an assistant. Each has its own dining room and kitchen as any ordinary home would have and the children insofar as possible have a normal home atmosphere. An effort is made to get away from the old idea of placing only children of one sex and of near age in the same cottage. The children are grouped more nearly as they would be in a usual home.

GARDENS AND PLAYGROUNDS

In addition to the institution form each child is allotted a certain plot of ground in which to plant a garden. There is also a playground with all the modern facilities for organized play and a swimming pool. The outstanding feature of this institution is the fact that there is no central school or church. The children attend the public schools of

Q: Have many churches been built to include office buildings? J. H. H.
A: Many modern churches have been built on this plan. Los Angeles and Baltimore have four each. New the nearby city and go to the particular church of their faith. Also they occasionally go to the town for entertainment. The idea is to give them a community contact which heretofore has been lacking in such institutions. It is a further effort to give these unfortunate children as nearly the same chance for a normal life as those who have mothers and fathers with whom they live.

While there has not as yet been established an institution along the exact lines of this model, there are a number of cottage institutions throughout the United States which are operated somewhat similarly. Perhaps one of the best known is Mooseheart, which is supported by the Loyal Order of Moose, and is one of the hobbies of Secretary of Labor Davis. At this institution mothers are also taken in, and it is said that the cost of supporting one child for one year is a thousand dollars. Recently this society tried the experiment of allowing a pension to a mother in order that she might remain at home with her child. It is felt by some that a thousand dollars would go further toward supporting a mother with dependent children in her own home than it would in an institution.

STARTS ART AT 60

For 60 years Charles Hetherington of Chicago waited to begin to be an artist. Seven years ago he started painting. Now his art is sought by galleries and collectors throughout the country.

York and Detroit come next with three in each city. Chicago has the Kansas City, Missouri, Boston, Cincinnati, Syracuse and Rochester, New York, Des Moines, and Patterson, New Jersey, each have a building of this type.

Q: Has the Panama Canal paid itself yet? L. S.

A: The Panama Canal has not yet completely paid for itself. The cost of construction including payments to Panama and France, approximated $375,000,000. The total amount of tolls collected from 1915 to 1922 aggregated $75,000,000. Three years ago, for purposes of accounting, part of the total cost of constructing the canal was written off to national defense. This left, June 30, 1921, a balance of $235,651,662 as the investment in the canal proper and an additional sum of $1,017,612.16 invested in equipment. In 1921 the net income of the Panama Canal was $16,207,948.50, and the net profit on auxiliary business operations was $421,621.12.

Q: Why is the Lucy Stone League called that? E. H.

A: Lucy Stone was a suffragist who achieved considerable notoriety by declining to stanch her name upon marriage to the one borne by her husband in accordance with common custom. A league was founded of women who preferred to retain their maiden names and was named in her honor, the Lucy Stone League.

Q: Is it correct to say that there are five fingers on each hand? J. W. A.

A: Strictly speaking, the thumb should not be referred to as a finger and we have on each hand four fingers and a thumb. The term that refers to all five of the divisions of the hand is digit. However, the word "finger" has come to be used loosely in reference to the four digits and the thumb.

Q: How did the term "jazz" originate? L. E. M.

A: James Reese Europe says: "I believe the term jazz originated with a band of four pieces which was known as 'Jazz Band.' This band was of truly remarkable composition. It consisted of a baritone horn, a trombone, a cornet and an instrument made out of the chimney pipe. This instrument is something like the clarinet and is made by the southern negroes themselves. Strange to say it can be used only while the cat is in the wood, and after a few weeks use, has to be thrown away. It produces a beautiful sound, is worthy of inclusion in any band or orchestra. The four musicians of Jazz's band had no idea at all of what they were playing, they improvised as they went along, but such was their innate sense of rhythm that they produced something that was very taking. From the small cafes of New Orleans, they graduated to the Saint Charles Hotel, and after a time, to the Winter Garden in New York, where they appeared, however, only a few days, the individual musicians being graded up by various orchestras in the city. Somehow, in the passage of time, Jazz's band got changed to Jazz's band and from this corruption rose the term jazz."

LETTER FROM SALLY ATHERTON TO RUTH BURKE.

You see, my dear Mrs. Burke, things are a little bit different at the office, and I have really two men on my hands who are no good at anything. Mr. Prescott's assistant, who had been with Mr. Hamilton a long while, is also not in a position to think very rationally.

I won't go into this matter, however, because it is only of 1 less than I want to talk to you. I want you to make Leslie understand that, however much I sympathize with her stand, unfortunately, one can let one's personal hurt enter into the affairs of a great business.

The huge Hamilton Steel Corporation is suffering. It will be only a short while before people will say that since Mr. Hamilton is out of it, it is deteriorating. Then that terrible thing which every corporation dreads, the selling price of its stocks will drop.

No one can help this, Mrs. Burke, until in some way the affairs of John Alden Prescott and his wife are straightened out.

I would not write this to Leslie myself but I think it would be better coming from you. You have known her very intimately since her marriage and during that time Leslie and I have grown apart.

I have never ceased to think of her, however, as one of the sweetest and best women this side of Heaven—you know I really owe my present splendid position to her—yet naturally our ideas and viewpoints are different; mine being that of a woman who has mixed with men when their society manners are off and their fighting clothes are on.

Here I go rambling on when really I intended to write you a very short letter merely explaining to you that Mr. Prescott is drinking altogether too much. I do not believe that there has been one night since Leslie left for Atlantic City that he has gone to bed sober. This, of course, leaves him the next day very grouchy and unfit for work.

This frightens me, for all the great trouble of my life has been caused by drink.

The only person that can straighten him out now is Leslie, for whatever she may think, she is the only woman that John Alden Prescott really loves. Whether that love will ever make her happy I don't presume to predict, but I do predict with what I feel is a great certainty that unless she undertakes this responsibility the Hamilton Steel Corporation will go on the rocks.

Do you think she will accept it? If she will not she must definitely have it out with her husband and take steps with her mother to have someone else put in charge of the business.

I hope, my dear Mrs. Burke, that you will not think I am impertinent but my training has made it impossible to see a great industry jeopardized without at least trying in my weak way to warn those who own it of the danger. Sincerely,

SALLY ATHERTON.

TOMORROW — Letter from Leslie Prescott to John Alden Prescott never mailed.

SEYMOUR GARAGE FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF $300

Special to Post-Crescent
Seymour—Loss of about $300 was caused by a fire occurring shortly after midnight at the Vandenberg Auto company's garage here. The origin of the blaze is not known.

Theodore Nisodem, cashier of Seymour State bank, discovered the building afire about 12:30. The blaze started in the workshop at the rear, burned part of a bench, two tool cabinets and part of a window frame. The walls also were charred. Chemicals were applied by the fire department and the blaze brought under control readily.

Tools in the cabinets were ruined; an electric drill and other equipment also were damaged. The cabinets belonged to mechanics employed by the garage and were not insured. The loss on the building was covered by insurance, however.

The falls came in ten and fifteen minutes respectively. Young Smith, the Oneida Indian, also won in two straight falls from Dean Hubbard of this city. The next match will likely be between Carl Van Wurden and Bob Spurling of Minneapolis on Tuesday night, June 2.

INGROWN NAIL Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so loosens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

Wrinkles Disappear in Fifteen Minutes!

If you want to see wrinkles, age lines and sagging completely disappear from your face in less than 15 minutes, just mix a spoonful of powdered tarrkroot with a spoonful of lemon juice. Apply this soothing mixture to your face. Before your very eyes, while you watch in the mirror, the ugly marks of age will disappear like magic. It is most startling. Behold, now. Watch the "sagging" correct itself! Enjoy the strange, delicious sensation of stimulation, support and plump, smooth firmness!

When you wash off the application, your face looks years younger. The effect is far better than that of a face massage. Tarrkroot is so harmless you could eat it. From your drugstore you can obtain a package containing enough to bring the cost of each treatment down below three cents.

STAGE AND SCREEN

THE THUNDERING HERD
The "Thundering Herd" which made its bow this afternoon at the Appleton Theatre is a vigorous mixture of entertainment and instruction, of history and fiction. It has tremendous dramatic value yet the thrilling story it narrates, the adventures and incidents it unfolds and the scenes it pictures are based upon facts that are historically true.
The photoplay was adapted from the absorbing novel of the same name by Zane Grey and centers around the glamorous and colorful days of 1876. Mr. Grey knows the west in the early days as do few others, and Lucien Hubbard, who summarized the story and William K. Howard who directed it, have been careful to follow the novel down to its minutest details.
Instead of viewing a plain dotted with cities, ranches and cement roads the film shows us the west as it was fifty years ago—a vast wilderness, ranged by great herds of buffalo, over-run by wolves, bears and mountain lions and inhabited by fierce, nomadic Indians.
As for the cast, besides those featured players already mentioned, it includes Raymond Hatton who also portrays a leading role, Charles Ogle, Lillian Leighton, Eulalie Jensen, Ed Brady and several hundred minor characters.

AT FISHERS APPLETON TONITE.

BIG CAST WITH MARION DAVIES IN HER "ZANDER THE GREAT"

One of the most brilliant casts ever assembled to support a motion picture star is that which is seen with Marion Davies in her newest photoplay, "Zander the Great," a picturization of Salisbury Field's stage success of the same name, showing at the Elit Theatre today and tomorrow.
As Mame, heroine of "Zander the Great," Miss Davies is surrounded by a cast of noted players that sounds like the blue book of filmdom. Among them are Holbrook Blinn of "The Bad Man" fame and who also was featured with the Cosmopolitan star in "Yoland" and "Janice Meredith," and Harrison Ford, who played opposite Miss Davies in "Little Old New York" and "Janice Meredith."
Others in the cast include the following: Hobart Bosworth, Harry Myers, George Siegmann, Richard Carle, Harry Watson, Olin Howland, Hedda Hopper, Emily Fitzroy and Baby Jack Huff.
George Hill directed "Zander the Great." It is a Cosmopolitan production, released by Metro-Goldwyn.

"PEACOCK ALLEY" GLITTERS IN SPLENDID NEW PHOTO-DRAMA

Every hotel has its "Peacock Alley." Sometimes by other names—in the Fairmount, San Francisco, there is Rainbow Lane, for instance. And in the new photoplay at the New Bijou is a scene which shows one of these gorgeous "parade" crowds of a fashionable caravansary. It is constructed of a material resembling a green marble and in its original colors is exquisite. On the screen it takes different shades of black and white and is most effective. This is a small town and a big city picture. It has a great cast headed by Bryant Washburn and Mabel Forrest, with Kathleen Kirkham, Wheeler Oakman, Sidney de Grey, Martha Franklin and others in support. Ben Wilson directed.

The story centers about a girl whose father has always treated her in a tyrannical manner until finally she breaks through the rules he has laid down and goes to the city. There she runs into her exemplary father, the pattern of decorum, the big man of the town, staid and respectable—cavorting about with the girl of the genus "chicken" in the parlance of the day. How this strange situation works out can best be learned by a visit to the theater which will repay by offering real entertainment. The story is by Evelyn Campbell and was adapted by Frank Sullivan.

LEVITAN URGES
LIONS TO GIVE
HELP TO ALIENS

State Treasurer Tells Luncheon Club of Duty of Americans to Foreigners

Asserting that it is small wonder that immigrants to this country do not better understand American ways and American laws, Solomon Levi-tan, state treasurer, told members of the Appleton Lions club, at their weekly meeting Monday night, that Americans should extend a helping hand to the potential citizens.

"If the average American thinks of the immigrant at all," Mr. Levitan said, "it is probably only to consider him a necessary evil. He holds him off at arms length and looks on him as nothing but the 'scum of the earth.' Small wonder it is then that our foreigners concentrate in groups of their own, preserving their old world customs and old world ideas."

Mr. Levitan commended the work which Lions clubs are doing in Americanizing foreign groups within their communities, expressing the hope that the spirit of Lionism might serve as a leaven working in the working in the American people toward a better understanding between the native born and the strangers who have come from foreign lands.

EAGER TO LEARN
"You, who through you Lions work have been conducting citizenship classes in your various communities, know how eager those immigrants are to learn, how grateful they are for the helping hand you have given them," Mr. Levitan continued. "And the few you have reached are but a bare beginning of the hundreds of thousands who would be just as eager for such an opportunity."

"It is all very well for the native American to sit back and condemn our foreigners as lawless and ignorant but he must not forget his own responsibility. He must not forget that many times the foreigner who breaks our prohibition law does so because it is contrary to all that he has considered an essential part of his life in the old country, and no one has ever taken the trouble to make him understand the American viewpoint."

On the contrary, it is the American himself who tries to buy booze from him and encourages him in his law-breaking. Small wonder that he does not respect laws which Americans themselves are frequently guilty of not keeping.

NOT SOCIAL OUTCASTS
"Then, too, we must not forget that fundamental social fact that if we make a man an enemy of the social system which imposes that ostracism.
We who treat the foreigner as if he were the very dregs of civilization, despise him and look down upon him are ourselves responsible if he does not become a law abiding citizen."

"They are not the scum of the earth. They may be lowly and poor, but in their hearts is that same pioneer spirit which brought your forefathers to these shores in search of new homes and a better opportunity for themselves and their children.
Today we idolize those brave spirits who set out with ox team and prairie schooner to win new homes in western wilderness. That same spirit is in the hearts of everyone of those foreigners who has come to us, and given half an opportunity they will more than make good with their thrift and industry."

"And it has not been entirely a matter of one sided giving on the part of America. For the immigrant has had a large part in the building up physical mental work. Now we have needed laborers to do the hard, the physical mental work. No we have limited the number of immigrants who can come to us from a country in any one year. I have no quarrel with these immigration laws, but I do

BEND IN STREET

Union-st Residents Want Council to Buy Sombke
Property and Keep Street Straight

Residents of Union-st are preparing to offer strong opposition to extending their street as it has been authorized by the city council, because the present plan provides for a bend in the road where it passes the Sombke property on E. Wisconsin-ave. This property was valued at $7,000 by a farmer jury in condemnation proceedings several weeks ago, and the city objects to paying this price, holding it exorbitant. Therefore the council has decided to build the road without purchasing the property in question.

The property owners on Union-st object to this measure. They claim that Union-st is one of the most important streets in Appleton, and that sooner or later it will have to be straightened. Probably the value of property will rise after the street is extended and elindered, they claim, and the expense then will be increased instead of diminished.

It is said that property owners are planning to formulate a petition for presentation to the common council at its adjourned meeting Wednesday, asking that the Sombke property be purchased at the price set and the street built in a straight line.

ZUEHLKE HELPS
IN BIRD SURVEY

Postmaster Authorized to Trap and Band Birds for Federal Government

William H. Zuehlke, postmaster and prominent as a sportsman in Outagamie-co. has been authorized by the Biological Survey of Washington, D. C. to trap wild birds and place bands on their legs in an attempt to gain further knowledge of their habits. The bands are of aluminum, bearing numbers corresponding to those on blanks provided by the biological survey. Whenever a bird is caught a band is placed about one of its legs and the bird is liberated. The card bearing the same number as the band is filled in with data regarding the time and place of capture, kind of bird and other essential details, and then sent to the Biological survey office.

If a bird bearing such a band is caught or found dead, the finder or sportsman is requested to send the band to the survey office, together with a description of the circumstances of discovery.

The purpose of this procedure is to learn how long birds live, what routes they travel in migration, how many miles they travel in a day, whether they keep the same mates and many other interesting questions.

More volunteers are needed for this work, and anyone interested should write to the Inland Bird Banding association, Wm. I. Lyon, President,

ORGANIZE MUSIC LOVERS TO SUPPORT BAND HERE

MAYOR TO NAME COMMITTEE TO PREPARE PLAN

Association of 2,000 Members to Sponsor Band Is Director Mumm's Idea

Appleton, through a group of its business and professional men, got down to serious consideration at a dinner at Conway hotel Monday evening of the future of the 121st Field Artillery band, and how the seed of what is expected to develop into a band association to give the musical organization support and a chance to grow.

Through motion of A. C. Remley, a committee of seven is to be appointed by Mayor John Goodland, Jr., to devise a plan by which a suitable association may be formed. The committee is to consist of two members of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, two members of the common council and three others, some of whom will be from the city park board. The mayor announced that he would make the appointments within a day or two.

It is the hope of the band, as expressed through E. P. Mumm, director, that an association thus formed will have possibly 2,000 members giving two dollars each, and giving fifty dollars each and perhaps some giving a hundred dollars a year. Proper financial and moral support, he said, will mean that outside talent can be attracted here to supply instruments that are missing in the band now.

GIVE MORE CONCERTS
The director believes the band could give at least 24 concerts a year. It can pay its soloists or first chair men more money and offer more of an inducement to second chair men to become better players. The organization would like to bring in artists of national prominence to furnish numbers at concerts. Mr. Mumm said he would like to bring in such renowned artists this summer that Pierce park would not hold the crowd that would attend. He would like to give one concert a week in winter through a system of support by patrons and patronesses.

It was shown by the addresses given at the dinner that the people of Appleton not only have the interest of the military band deep at heart, but that they wish to see the city grow musically beyond the strides it already has made. The desire in some, is to see children trained in band music from the time they are young, using the same director for the grade and high schools and perhaps Lawrence college as is engaged for the city band.

The banquet was tendered the business and professional men of Appleton by the 121st Field Artillery band. Fifty had promised to be present and diners were ordered for that number in addition to the band members, but only about 25 appeared. An excellent program was played previous to the serving under Mr. Mumm's direction, including "William Tell," (Rossini), "Orpheus" (Offenbach) and "Morning, Noon and Night" (Von Suppe).

RYAN IS CHAIRMAN
Attorney Thomas H. Ryan was chairman of the meeting and called on a number of men for their expressions concerning the band. He spoke of the need of development of the soil and of the good the band was doing here. He said that in his experience of 33 years as a lawyer and 10 years as municipal judge he did not find one genuine lover of music who was a bad man. The question now was not so much that of helping the band as of helping Appleton.

Gustave Keller, Sr., spoke of the honor bestowed on the city by having the government choose it as the location of one of the army bands and declared that it was the duty of Appleton to maintain and keep that distinction. Considerable publicity comes to the city because of the band and it surely would be regrettable if it were said at some future time that the band was moved away from here because the people hadn't enough pride to support it. The proper place for musical training is in the schools, he said, and believed the civic band leader ought to develop bands among the pupils. The band is needed for public demonstration and a city without one is a disadvantage indeed. Appleton's expenditure of $100,000 a year for its municipal band was mentioned by Attorney J. L. Johns in his talk. He suggested that the city not only supply a suitable leader for the band but have him direct the high school and Lawrence college bands as well. In this way the city can afford to engage the kind of man it should have. He pointed to the success of a plan like this at Richmond, Center, where a band in the high school took first place in the state and fifth place in Chicago in national competition. It will broadcast a concert June 5 from the University of Wisconsin, he said. Students should be given credits toward graduation for band training, in his opinion.

COUNCIL IS AVAILABLE
It is not necessary to "batter" the common council for support for the band, Alderman Mark Catlin declared. It will appropriate money for anything that the public can convince the council is worthwhile. He said there are public institutions here for which the city is not getting value received, mentioning the vocational school in particular, and money can be saved in such places could be used for things more worthwhile. Method of financing the band was explained by Stephen C. Rosebush, who has been a member of the musical organization and one of its best supporters for years. It was revealed in other statements that he has contributed large sums to help keep the band going. The band is receiving $2,000 yearly from the city in payment for ten concerts, said Mr. Rosebush. The state appropriates enough for armory rent and pay for each man so that he receives 75 cents to $1 a rehearsal. There is no surplus in what the state pays to take care of current expenses. The director is paid $1,200 a year out of the city's $2,000, leaving $800 to pay the men for their concert work. This means that each player gets about $3 a concert whereas he could get $5 or $6 elsewhere. There is an average of 55 men at each concert, and figures for $1,050 each for ten concerts mean $10,500. The band therefore has a deficit of $250 from its ten concerts right at the start.

It is the belief of Mr. Rosebush that the band, excellent though it now is, can be developed so that it is as successful, relatively, as the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra and others on a scale commensurate with the size of the city. The band wants the interest of the public so when it finds men of ability, suitable employment can be found so as to induce them to move here. Players are needed right now for the oboe, bassoon and clarinets.

PROMISES CITY'S AID
Mayor Goodland declared that if the public would show the council any reasonable plan to support the band, the council could perhaps give more than at present out of the general fund. He said that speaking as a private citizen, the present amount even might be doubled. If the park board is to spend forty or fifty thousand to improve Pierce park, what good would it do if there were not one or two band concerts a week, he declared. He suggested a large pavilion in Pierce park where there could be dances every night if necessary, under proper supervision so as to keep young people away from roadhouses, country dances, and other unsupervised places.

Capt. Fred R. Rogers, viewing the band from the standpoint of one who has had much to do with bands, said Appleton has the best national guard band he knows of and one that compares well nationally. J. D. Steele said there ought to be more men like the late George Peabody who thought enough of Appleton's musical development to give $20,000 to erect Peabody hall of Lawrence Conservatory of Music. He favored building an endowment fund which would assure the band $1,500 to $2,000 a year. Prof. Percy Pullinwider told how the town where Dakota Wesleyan university is located spends more than $20,000 a year to bring the best artists in the country there as a musical stimulus, declaring that the same could be done here.

RATE CREDIT OF 15,227 PERSONS IN C. C. OFFICE

Rating Bureau Protects Merchants Against Merchandising "Dead Beats"

Appleton's retail business amounting to $12,000,000 a year is protected against excessive credit losses by means of the Merchants Information bureau conducted at the chamber of commerce office. Almost 5,000 requests were telephoned or requested by the merchants during the last year.

This bureau was established to protect the people deserving of credit from those who abuse the merchandising privilege or use it fraudulently. The records have been enlarged every year until the files in charge of Miss Mildred Hutchinson, manager, contain 15,227 rating cards. More than 40,000 reports are on these cards showing the promptness with which people pay their bills.

Records for the year show that 1,987 calls were received. Of these 1,570 were for information and 317 were for credit reports. The bureau is used extensively at Christmas time when the shopping is heavy. The total reached 392 calls for the month of December.

HELP ADVERTISER
Practically every chamber of commerce office now has a bureau of this kind and Appleton merchants therefore can obtain information from any other city through this source.

Merchants also are protected by the endorsement committee, the identity of which is secret. All advertising solicitation schemes are referred to this group of business men, who weigh their value to the retailer and then issue an endorsement card or refuse one. The merchant is urged to ask for this card and if none is produced, by the solicitor, to refrain from buying space.

Promoters who visited the city within the last year conducted their solicitations intended to obtain $14,800, according to the proposals submitted to the committee for approval. Much of this was saved by denying

from Vocational School
Picnic; Dies in Accident

Johnson of Larson, was instantly killed; Roy Girard, 16, Second-st., suffered bad cuts on the back of his head and chest and Charles Hanke, 17, East North Water-st., received a badly bruised leg at 415 Monday afternoon when the Ford sedan in which they were riding overturned on the Sherwood road about five miles east of Child's corners.

The three young men and Louis Foster, 15, all students of the Neenah vocational school were returning from a picnic which had been held for vocational school pupils at High Cliff. The car was driven by its owner, Foster, who claimed that he was going between twenty and twenty-five miles an hour when it struck a sandhole and the car became unmanageable. It left the road and skidded along for about thirty feet while he tried to get back on the highway. When the car overturned, the Johnson boy, who was riding in the rear seat, was thrown in such a manner that his head was under the side of the car which crushed his skull.

Girard suffered injuries from glass cuts as every window in the car was broken when it tipped onto its side. The car was badly wrecked.

BUYERS TAKING COWS THAT HAVE TESTING RECORD

Bergshaken Cow Leads for May in Cicero-Black Creek Association Reports

Calves which have made good records in Cicero-Black Creek Cow Testing association during the last few months have been among those purchased by Nebraska buyers here this month. Tests for May reveal that Mollie, a cow owned by Peter Bergshaken, was the best producer, giving 1,353 pounds of milk with a test of 4.2 per cent fat and 57.1 pounds of butterfat.

The best record was that of 11 purebred and grade Holsteins owned by Thomas Delemater. They averaged 1,288 pounds of milk or 41.4 pounds of butterfat.

Nebraska buyers who have been in this locality choose their cattle only from herds that have cow testing association records. Quite a number of calves were picked from the Cicero-Black Creek herds.

Very few herds have been fed heavily owing to the low price of milk and the high price of feed. Most of the members are short of feed and cows now are on pasture. The pasture and hay prospects are not very promising, the breeders say.

Thirty cows produced more than 30 pounds of butterfat so far during May according to the report of St. Lambie, official tester, and Edward M. Melczewski, secretary. Owners of the 13 highest cows and the records were:

BEE NOT AS BUSY AS PROVERB SAYS

Government Test Shows How Little Each Contributes to Pound of Honey

Washington—If the far-famed busy bee is really busy, she doesn't show it by actual results.

This is the conclusion formed by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who sought to answer the question, "How busy is the busy bee?"

They found, after close and patient observation, that it took 567 bees all of their lives to produce one pound of their precious nectar.

Reduced to one bee this means an average of only eight-tenths of a gram of nectar collected during its entire life.

And a bee makes an average of 11.65 trips to and from the hive before death overtakes her.

These facts were ascertained by actual count of bees leaving and entering a test hive. Gate arrangements were made, so that only one bee could leave or enter at a time, enabling a counting device to keep tab on them.

Knowing the total amount of nectar gathered in any one day, and the number of bees returning to the hive, the observers could tell how much each bee carried on an average. This was decided upon as about 25 milligrams, or about as much as will go on a pinhead.

In the course of the study it was learned that of the 2,134,656 bees that left one hive, 5.16 per cent failed to return. From this the observers deduced that the average bee makes about 31.55 trips before it dies.

A bee may make a trip lasting anywhere from eight minutes to one hour and 34 minutes, depending on the honey flow. The figures seem to show, however, that even in a heavy honey flow the bees spend more time in the hive than they do on the trip itself.

LIFE'S TOO SWEET

The life of the bee is known to present perhaps the most interesting drama on earth. But few ever saw its enactment because of the dangers involved. Now motion picture directors have found a way to show the entire story to the American public.

This is how the operators snap movie photos of the bees. They take no chances.

PICNIC WILL BE AT MODEL FARM

Waupaca-co Outing June 23 Will Be at Noted Christenson Bros. Place

Special to Post-Crescent

Waupaca—This year's annual picnic of Waupaca County Holstein Breeders association will be an inspiration to dairymen because of the place at which it is held. The farm of Christenson Bros., town of Lebanon, was chosen and the date was set by the board of directors for Tuesday, June 23.

Christenson brothers themselves are among the most successful breeders of registered Holsteins in this locality. They have developed cattle which are among the leaders for production and have commanded big prices at sales. The herd will be inspected by the visitors and the methods of the owners will be shown.

It is the plan of A. E. Smith, president of the association, to engage a speaker of national reputation for the picnic. The program has not been worked out but will be announced later. It includes a liberal variety of amusement for the afternoon for both old and young. This probably will be the biggest farm gathering of the season in Waupaca-co.

Approximately 300 Appleton members of the Holy Name society will march in the monster parade at Marinette Sunday, May 31, in connection with the meeting of the Diocesan Union of Holy Name societies. The total number of those who will march will be several thousand. The purpose of the society is to further greater respect for the Divine Savior.

The Very Rev. B. H. Pennings of St. Norbert's college who soon is to be created an abbot, will be the celebrant of the pontifical high mass at the Marinette City park on the morning of May 31. Bishop Paul Rhode of the Green Bay diocese will deliver the sermon. Joint choruses of Marinette and a chorus of 500 parochial school boys will sing parts of the mass.

COME TO STATE TO VISIT FARMS ON JULY 17-18

About 200 from Southwestern States Will Study Cooperative Creameries

Madison—Between 150 and 200 farmers, prominent agriculturists and business men from several southwestern states will make a two day tour of Wisconsin dairy farms, July 17 and 18, according to word received by Prof. H. L. Hatch of Wisconsin college of agriculture, here.

A similar tour was made last year, in which the delegation spent four days in Wisconsin. This year a more extended trip is planned, including two days in Minnesota and Iowa in addition to the time spent in this state.

The delegation this summer wants to study cooperative creamery operation particularly, the message to Prof. Hatch said. Although the itinerary through Wisconsin has not been definitely settled, it is thought that the visitors will spend most of their time in the western counties of the state where cooperative creameries are most common.

Those in charge of the trip have informed Prof. Hatch that an effort will be made to have governors from the several states accompany the party. States from which most of the delegation will come include Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

EWES NEED EXERCISE AND PROPER FEEDING

Boise, Idaho — Close confinement coupled with the heavy feeding, it has been found, are the chief causes of ewe losses before lambing.

A study of the sheep situation in Idaho, by Dr. J. S. Dade, inspector in charge of the Idaho Board of Sheep Commissioners, has brought out this point.

According to Dr. Dade, this condition can easily be remedied by the supply of a balanced ration and healthful exercise, especially in the late winter and early spring.

The early symptoms are loss of regular appetite, impaired vision, staggering gait, twitching of muscles of head and ears, drooping, and a desire to be alone. Later the ewes develop paralysis and coma, probably as a result of autointoxication.
